

SEMI WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XX.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1892.

NO. 77

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY

—Mr. Joe Carr and family have moved to the Shea property, on Stanford street.

—During the storm last week several pieces were torn from the elegant election booths in the Park. The town trustees will have all damages repaired immediately.

—Benge & Hamilton have about completed their new livery stable and will open up for business this week. A fellow would have to travel a long way to find two better hostlers than Benge and Jim Hamilton.

—Communion services were held at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, conducted by the regular pastor, J. R. Terrey. In the evening the annual meeting of the Garrard County Bible Society was held at the Methodist church.

—The question as to what paper in Kentucky is the original "Cleveland journal" promises to create as much interest as that of who killed Cock Robin, who struck Billy Patterson, who killed Tecumseh, who was the youngest soldier who entered the army and who planted the first flag on the top of Mt. Fuji. Among the contestants for this honor our friend and townsman, M. D. Hughes, while editor of the Central Kentucky News, on the 5th of Nov. 1883, nominated Grover Cleveland for the presidency and had a venerable but scanty roster just above his name. It would therefore be just as well for the press to concede this honor to our townsman and let him rest easy on his laurels; and if there is any good thing lying around loose in the shape of pie, let it be tendered to him as soon as the running gear of the machine is in working order.

—If the excellent advice given by the Extension to the office-seekers would be endorsed by the press generally, it would have a salutary effect upon those who seem to have gone wild in their anticipations of positions under the next administration. This is no new thing, however, for what is popular known as "patronage" has been the rock upon which many yessels have stranded, and in the minds of many the offices constitute all there is worth fighting for. As a general rule the best men do not enter into a scramble for places, in view of the trouble incident to a contest and the uncertainty of the tenure by which it is held, if obtained. A government position is not easily procured; there is no certainty as to its duration, for the power that appoints to day can remove to-morrow, and without being required to give any reasons therefor. It disqualifies the incumbent to a certain extent for business in the ordinary vocations of life, and when set adrift he finds it difficult to obtain other employment, even though he may be ever so efficient. Naturally adopting the rule of "come easy go easy" very few have ever been known to save any of the money realized from their salaries, and nine out of every ten come out poorer than when they went in. The advice of those who have been in positions to know is to every young man to steer clear of government offices and seek some steady business, that is not dependent upon the fluctuations of politics. The question now with most of the seekers is, "What will I take?" but by the middle of next year it will be "What can I get?" Much valuable time will be lost in the chase for positions and where one is successful he will be disappointed. Those having the appointing power are to be pitied, and our Congressman, who is now sailing upon the "briny deep," may congratulate himself that for a short time at least he is beyond the reach of letters asking his assistance for office.

—The steamer Rosa Lee was destroyed by fire at Memphis. The loss on steamer and cargo is estimated at about $57,000. The steamer was insured for $27,000 in the Louisville Underwriters' Agency.

—A maligned Association decided by a vote of 101 to 91 to formally declare the Homestead strike off. The contest lasted five months, cost the company, it is estimated, $4,000,000, the strikers half that sum in wages, and last, but far from least, 35 deaths.

—John Yearly, of Estill county, was feeling good over the democratic victory and rode up to the house of William McIntosh, a republican, and yelled for Cleveland. He then began to tantalize McIntosh, who in retaliation shot him through the hip.

—Henry Villard, of Wall street, tendered a banquet to President-elect Cleveland, Thursday evening, which political gossipers think had a good deal of significance. Some prophets said that Mr. Villard wants to be secretary of the interior. Many persons think that he aspires to be minister to Germany.

—The Hutton family seems destined to be wiped out by the festive mule. O. W. Hutton was kicked Friday and will die. His brother, Abe, was killed by a mule team running away in West Virginia, a few days ago, and his father was thrown from a mule and killed, near Hinton, W. Va., just three weeks ago. One brother still lives and he is driving a mule team in Ohio.

DANVILLE.

—After a long and dangerous illness Mr. Hubert Metcalf is now thought to be improving steadily.

—Hugh Tarkington, son of Geo. Tarkington, of this county, who has been ill four or five weeks of typhoid fever, is now thought to be in an almost hopeless condition.

—Mr. Jerry Wade, son of the late R. C. Wade, of this county, died in the West End, Friday night, of consumption and was buried at Perryville Sunday. Services by the Rev. J. C. Gilliam of the Methodist church.

—Mr. C. A. Bradford, agent and telegraph operator for the L. & N. railroad at Parksville, and Miss Sallie Brown, who were married there Monday morning. The bride is the youngest daughter of Dr. W. A. Brown, of Parksville.

—Rev. J. W. Powell, for 12 years stationed at Sattillo, Mexico, as the head of the Southern Baptist Mission from the United States, was in Danville Sunday. At the conclusion of the services at the Baptist church $445 was raised as a part of a $250,000 missionary fund to be raised by the Baptists in the United States.

—Louis Cohn, formerly of Danville, is a candidate for post-master at Middletown, where he now lives. Mr. Cohn is a thorough democrat and a capable business man. He has been a hard worker for his party and deserves the reward he seeks. His many friends in Danville and Boyle county wish him success.

—Mr. B. J. C. Howe, of Indianapolis, who put up the Stanford water works, was here Friday in conference with a committee of the council in regard to furnishing Danville with a supply of good water for all purposes. He went to see the famous spring on the farm of the late Dr. Jackson and is of the opinion that more than a sufficient quantity can be obtained there. Mr. McLeod, of Louisville, another water works expert, will be here Monday or Tuesday.

—The Louisville Times published Friday a portrait (?) of Miss Mary Belle Engleman, of Danville, one of the maids of honor at the recent Sattillo ball. The picture may look like somebody on the face of the earth, but bears not the slightest resemblance to the young lady it is intended to represent. It seems as though the artist of the Press may have reached into a basket of photographs and taking the first one his fingers touched, made his engraving from it and called it Miss Engleman.

—Marshall Groves, a colored man of good character, who has been employed at the D. & D. Institute for a number of years, became highly excited if not crazy, Sunday morning at precisely 10 o'clock, and threatened to cut his throat. He had a razor and a big knife through whose aid he expected to depart for the beautiful shores. His friends took charge of him and watched him closely until towards evening when he became quiet. The cause of Marshall's trouble is that his sweetheart, Mattie Carr, to whom he had been engaged for a long time, and whom he expected to marry in a few days, had gone back on him and threatened to marry another man. At least Marshall heard that she had so threatened and as he had built a new house to take his bride to and made other preparations for his anticipated bliss, her alleged unfaithfulness turned him wild and there is little doubt but what he would have carried out his threat. It is said that the parties met late in the evening and that the marriage may yet take place.

—Capt. F. W. Lillard has some fine old whisky which he sells for medical purposes and which has been disappearing a little faster of late than the prescriptions on file account for. Suspecting some one unknown of appropriating his goods, he, Friday evening last, drew a gallon measure about two-thirds full and placing it in the back part of the store, went to the front and awaited developments. In perhaps half an hour, while he and several other gentlemen were seated near the stove talking a rattling was heard among the glassware in the corner where the whisky had been deposited. Slipping back on tip-toe he could at first see nothing except the gallon measure. Approaching still nearer, he was surprised to see a huge Norway rat with his head and two thirds of his body in the measure and drinking away for dear life. Wishing to secure witnesses to his discovery he motioned to Col. Wilson Dunn and Dr. Wm. P. Scott to come to him, and coming, they saw the sad spectacle first seen by him. For fully ten minutes the degraded creature drank and drank until his hide would hold no more, and then so intoxicated had he become that in trying to get his body out of the measure and back onto the floor he lost his balance and fell headlong into the fire-water, where he would have died the death of the unhappy Clarence had not the gentlemen present come to his rescue. For some time after being taken out he lay in a drunken stupor and it was fully an hour before he opened his eyes and began to look around. When he arose to his feet he staggered shamefully, his inebriety being patent to the dullest observer. The young man from Dundee, who by this time had come in, advised him to go home and go to sleep, adding, "I've been in your fix myself." But not the Norwegian had not yet made a sufficient spectacle of himself, so he continued to cavort around. He turned hand springs, tried to shout "Hurrah for steel" and misbehaved generally to such an extent that Capt. Lillard was about to open fire on him with a shot-gun, when probably taking the hint, he leaped through the open cellar door and disappeared.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—J. B. Foster bought of J. H. Boone 50 ewes at $1.

—It. Cobb, Sr., bought of Geo. Carter 80 ewes at $3.50.

—The owner of Maquette, 2:10, has refused $30,000 for him.

—Fresh 4-year-old Jersey cow for sale. J. T. Hocker, Turnersville.

—J. W. Allen sold at Danville yesterday 21 short leavings and 2 year-olds at 3:10.

—The Manly County, Tenn., Democrat quotes 15 to 16 head mules, 4 to 7 years old, at $85 to $135.

—For Rent.—House and 6 acres in wheat and 12 to go in corn. T. M. White.

—John Linney, of Danville, is the father of 26 children, 20 of whom are living. He has been married twice.

—Southern California's orange and olive crop this year is most promising, while that of the lemons will be short.

—J. E. Bruce says it was 250 pounds in two months that he put on his dehorned cattle by feeding them corn and cane under shelter.

—The Lebanon Enterprise says that Mattingly & Co. bought 68 steers at 3 to 3:10 and 100 fat hogs at 4:10. New corn is selling at $2.50 delivered in town.

—M. F. Elkin bought in this county a lot of 200 pound hogs at 4:10 cents; of Beasley Bros. a nice lot of heifers at 2:10, and of T. A. Coulter a fine cow at 2:10 cents.

—Danville Court.—About 50 cattle were on the market yesterday. Thirteen good feeders brought 2:37; 8 good yearlings at $2; 100 sheep $3.20; plug horses $15 to $30. No mules offered. Crowd fairly good.

—The Lexington Gazette reports sales of a car-load of feeding cattle at 3:65; 23 of 1,300 pounds at 3:10 and several other lots at 3 to 4c. It also reports sales of several car-loads of fat hogs at 5c, 100 stock ewes at $4 a head and a lot of lambs at 4:10.

—B. G. Fox & Co. sold to Geo. W. Welsh a 4-year-old Harkaway gelding for $250 and to L. H. Hudson & Co. two New York saddlers for $435. The price for the new hemp crop here is $4.50. A. G. Whitley sold to Owsley Evans 100 barrels of corn at $2.25 at the shock.

—Advocate.

—Wm. Moreland bought of J. S. Owsley, Sr., 51 1,500-pound cattle at 3:10 and of same 6 butcher cattle at 2c and an old ox for $5. He bought of Jim Allen a lot of hogs at 4:05 and a lot of butcher cattle at 2:10. He sold to Capt. Vest 30 hogs at 3c and to J. B. Foster a lot of yearling steers at 2:10.

—Whitelaw Reid has an eye to business. He contributed $75,000 to the republican campaign fund, but the sequel proved that it had a large sized string tied to it. The $75,000 had hardly got settled in the contribution box when Mr. Reid's paper, the New York Tribune, sent in a bill to the national committee of $70,000 for advertising. Whitelaw, it will be seen, is only out $5,000 on the campaign and Whitelaw is a millionaire. President Harrison is a poor man, comparatively speaking, and when he ruminates on his personal contribution of $40,000 and then thinks of Reid's skilful transaction he must feel rather bitter against his late running mate. The republicans made a great big mistake when they dropped Levi P. Morton to pick up Whitelaw Reid.—Paducah News.

—The worst of it is that the advertising spoken of was printing such speeches as that of Sherman and others of the party. Ordinarily newspapers take stenographic reports of speeches worth printing and gladly publish them for nothing.

—Speaking of odd election bets. One of the very prettiest girls in town—how a man's month waters when he thinks of the girl and the bet—wagered a kiss against a dollar that Harrison would be elected. She lost, but in the five days since the result was announced the young man has not had the spunk to attempt a collection of the stakes. He put up his dollar in the hands of a maiden of uncertain age but certain homeliness. With a bright idea in her head the young lady kissed the old maid and when the young man calls for his kiss he will be told to get it from the stakeholder.—Owensboro Messenger.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Mr. E. McWhorter and Mary F. Elliott, of Casey county, Ky., eloped to Jeffersonville and were married.

—We are informed, and reliably too, that Miss Tillie Hall, formerly of this place but now of Winchester, will be married next month to a Mr. Watterman, of Florida.

—Disappointed in love and not believing that there is as good fish in the sea as were ever caught, Rev. G. H. Harris, of Orange, Mass., drank a cup of cold poison and shuttled off his mortal coil.

—Georgia, Ill., is in the throes of a social upheaval. Mrs. Hawley, the wife of a prominent citizen, accused him of attempted murder and he brought suit for divorce against her, making 20 of the so-called best citizens of the town co-respondents in the suit.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The revival conducted by Elder Spencer, of Winchester, at Lexington, has resulted in 66 additions at last accounts.

—Rev. J. R. Deering arrived yesterday afternoon and expected to begin a series of meetings at the Methodist church last night. Services at 10:30 every morning and at 6:30 at night.

—At Oklahoma, a religious fanatic, picked up a rattlesnake to demonstrate his faith. The snake bit him, of course, but the combined prayers of himself and followers didn't keep him from climbing the golden stairs.

—The Thanksgiving services will be held at the Methodist church Thursday morning at 10:30. The sermon will be preached by Rev. J. R. Deering. It is earnestly requested that all come and join in the services.

—Rev. George O. Barnes is coming to Frankfort to hold a series of meetings. Among other things he will talk about "The Lost Tribes." We are glad about this. Perhaps, during his researches, he may find an answer to the deploring republican cry of "where are we at?"—Capital.

—The protracted meeting at the M. E. church, South, continues with great interest and large attendance. So far there have been about 20 conversions. Bro. Wright has been assisted by Miss Emma Tucker, since the departure of Prof. Fogg. Miss Tucker is the organizer of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Kentucky Conference and has been a wonderful help in the meeting.—Jesseamine Journal.

—Rev. W. H. Munnell has done a grand work as pastor of the Central Gospel Mission. He has already served in this capacity over eight consecutive years, and in six years past, holding an average of nine services each week, has not missed a single service. Hundreds and hundreds have been converted under his ministry. The converts of Central Mission are scattered far and wide, some in Scotland, England, Ireland and far Ceylon, as well as throughout the United States.

LEAVES HAVE THEIR TIME TO FALL.

Leaves have their time to fall,
And flowers to wither at the north wind's breath
And stars to set—but all,
Thou hast all seasons for thine own, oh, Death!

Death is for mortal care,
For glad meetings round the joyous hearth.
Night for the dreams of sleep, the voice of prayer—
But for all these, thou mischievous earth!

The banquet hath its hour,
To feversh hour of mirth and song and wine;
There comes a day of grief's overwhelming power—
A time for softer tears—but all are thine.

Youth and the opening rose
May look like things too glorious for decay;
And smile at this—but thou art not of those
That wait the ripened bloom to seize their prey.

Leaves have their time to fall,
And flowers to wither at the north wind's breath,
And stars to set—but all,
Thou hast all seasons for thine own, oh, Death!

We know when moons shall wane—
When summer winds from far shall cross the sea—
When autumn's hues shall tinge the golden grain,
But who shall teach us when to look for thee?

Is it when Spring's first gale
Comes forth to whisper where the violets lie?
Is it when roses in our path grow pale?
They have one season—all are ours to die!

Thou art where billows roam—
Thou art round us in our peaceful home,
And the world calls us forth to meet thee there.

Thou art where friend meets friend,
Beneath the shadow of the elm, at rest;
Thou art where forerunner, and triumphs rove,
The skies, and swords beat down the princely crest.

Leaves have their time to fall,
And flowers to wither at the north wind's breath,
And stars to set—but all—
Thou hast all seasons for thine own, oh, Death!

From the selections of the editor's dear, dead wife, and printed in loving memory of her.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became a Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Two freight trains collided on the Belt Line railway at Chicago. Three men were killed and two were seriously if not fatally injured.

With official returns from all the counties of the State except Jefferson, Campbell, Marion, Ohio, Robertson and Wayne, and semi-official reports from them, shows Cleveland's plurality in Kentucky 42,002, or nearly 14,000 more than in 1888 and about 10,000 more than in 1884. The total this year as computed is 342,811, divided as follows: Cleveland, 178,559; Harrison, 114,070; Weaver, 21,842; Bidwell, 5,532. The Louisville Times says it will thus be seen that the total vote this year is less than that cast four years ago, that there was a falling off in the Cleveland vote of 5,000, and in the Harrison vote of 18,500. The new ballot accounts for the falling off in the total vote, and the growth of the people's party explains the decrease in the democratic vote, but the loss of more than 15,000 republican votes is one of those things that no fellow has yet found out, unless it be due to the factional fight between the leaders of that party and the preponderance of ignorance in its ranks, making its advocates exceptionally shy of the kangaroo method of voting.

The candidacy of Mrs. Mary E. Lease, the woman who accompanied Weaver on his speech making tour of the South and elsewhere and took a hand, or rather a tongue, in the speaking herself, is a candidate for U. S. "Senatress" from Kansas and the matter has assumed a serious reality. She is fixing wires for the place and her popularity, with the rank and file of the party will give her at least an equal chance with other aspirants, and especially as there seems to be no constitutionality question. With an ex Confederate, an Indian and a socialist in her Congressional delegation, a short-haired woman would very naturally complete the menagerie of the State's political wonders.

The good old State of Georgia deserves both the cake and the whole bakery. Her official vote, just declared, gives Cleveland 129,536 votes, Harrison 48,305, Weaver, 42,929 and Bidwell 988. Cleveland's plurality is 81,061 and his majority over all 34,791. This is 20,052 more than in 1888, notwithstanding the people's party promised to play havoc and Sam Jones, Sam Small and Dr. Hawthorne tried to turn the State over to the prohibitionists. What's the matter with Georgia? She's ALL RIGHT!

Still maintaining that he is as mild a mannered man as ever cut a throat or scuttled a ship, the editor of this paper serves notice that he cannot stand everything and go to mill too. The Courier-Journal within the last few days has spoken of him as a crank and the Covington Commonwealth as a cuss. As Jack Chinn said so says he: "Hunt your grave-yards, d—n you. I'm in this fight to win and win I will or die." Do you catch on, you impudent sons of a sea cook?

Early on the night of the election a dispatch was sent over the wires that the republicans had carried New Jersey. Everybody knew it was a lie, but how big a one was not officially known until Friday. Mr. Cleveland carried the State, as he has always done, this time by 14,865, against 7,149 in 1888. Even the unpopular democratic candidate for governor has 6,709 plurality.

TOM PETTIT, poor soul, is further out in the cold than any one we know of. He deserted the democratic party at the wrong time and now he'll have to bewail his luck in sackcloth and ashes. He might have been clerk of next Congress. Instead he will be nothing but a poor, dispirited renegade, with none so poor as to do him reverence.

JUDGE LILLY was defeated by Hon. D. R. Redwine, a democrat, at the recent election, which is another of the many good accomplishments of that day. Judge Lilly's career on the bench is not been free from suspicion and his retirement will be accepted with joy by all who desire absolute purity in the judiciary.

The New York Herald is authority for the statement that Mr. Carlsale will be Mr. Cleveland's Secretary of State. We object. The Senator is needed where he is. He is a safe and conservative leader and that's the manner of man we want in the Senate, now, more than ever.

The fourth annual celebration of the Satellites of Mercury was even more successful than the others. The beauty and chivalry of the State were gathered there and the scene was one beyond compare. Miss Mellie Carter, of Louisville, was queen and Mr. Fred DePinaak king.

Six comets can now be seen by the aid of telescopes and the superstitious predict all kinds of evils for the future. The prospect of the republicans is not very encouraging, but comets can't prevent us democrats from enjoying the next four years.

Mr. CLEVELAND, permits the use of your autograph a few moments. Desiring the complete success of your administration and wishing to render you all the assistance we can to that end, we have a suggestion to make. You will soon be called on to make a selection for the important office of Secretary of Agriculture, along with other minor positions in your cabinet. The difficulty you will labor under to find one who even in a measure can step worthily into the shoes of that agriculturalist of transcendent ability, our beloved old Uncle Jeremiah Rusk, is fully appreciated by your fellow citizens. Therefore, to help you out of a dilemma and serve the country we love so well since it went democratic, we present the name of one who has been tried as a farmer and not found wanting, a man who is tall enough to gather potatoes from the vines no matter how high they grow, or reach the persimmons through they be ever so deep in the ground. We refer, of course to Farmer Emmett Garvin Logan, of the Louisville Times, whose appointment would not only gratify the farmers, but make them more solidly for you than ever. Verbum sat sap.

DURING Cleveland's last administration the question of what to do with the large and growing surplus disturbed the minds of the statesmen, but it will do so no more. There were just one hundred millions of it in the treasury when the man of destiny turned over the affairs of government to the man from Indiana, but it has long since vanished and now a deficit appears. An economically administered government, such as is assured by Cleveland's election, may restore both the deficit and the surplus and put the country in proper shape again.

The Georgia Legislature seems to be in much haste to give State banks the right to issue currency as of yore. A bill has already been presented providing for it to go into effect as soon as Congress repeals the 10 per cent. tax on circulating notes of State's banks. This is a dangerous business to fool with and it is hoped that the law makers will go slow about it. Our currency is good enough and sufficient for all practical purposes.

As might have been expected, the Homestead strike has proven a signal failure for the strikers. It cost many lives and millions in salaries, a hundred men are to be tried for murder and treason and the rest are begging to be given their places back. Workingmen will learn after awhile that some other plan than strikes and force will have to be resorted to.

The beginning of the split which is to burst up the people's party, occurred at Memphis last week. The people's party retains control of the farmer's alliance, but a number withdrew from the organization and formed a new alliance, called a "cotton committee." It is proposed to form a gigantic combination to control the cotton business of the South.

The House committee on retrenchment and reform of the Kentucky Legislature decided unanimously to report favorably the bill to deduct the per diem of members when they are not at their post of duty, but it is dollars to cents the body will not adopt it. Take his per diem away and there would be little left of the average legislator.

The attention of speculators is called to the fact that Jerusalem is on a big boom since the railroad connecting it with Jatta has been completed. Over 300 houses, hotels, stores and residences, have been erected and the scenes enacted at Middleboro a few years ago are hardly a patching to the boom that is on the holy city.

JUDGE J. M. UNTHANK, of Pineville, one of the best democrats in the mountains or anywhere else, is mentioned for collector in this district and his host of friends hope that he will get it. There is one thing sure if he does, the office will be honestly and capably administered.

The official returns show that Tom Pettit was snowed under by Capt. Ellis for Congress by 8,146 and that the Capt. ain't got nearly as many votes as the republican got together. Physically a dwarf, little Tommy could draw himself through a gimlet hole now.

JUDGE W. M. FINLEY, the capable and clever managing editor of the Louisville Post, is an applicant for Surveyor of the Port of Louisville. If he makes as good a surveyor as he does an editor, and we haven't a doubt that he would, the office would be mighty well filled.

Our heart warms toward the editors of the Whitley Advocate for an appreciated reference to one who in life was all the world to us, and in death his memory is a benison, more to be prized than riches.

The Somerset Reporter says Judge Saufley "departed" Capt. Herndon for circuit judge. The captain has departed his political life, sure enough, and our townsman did it with his little hatchet.

The Richmond Register is now printed from brand new type and is as great a beauty typographically as its contents are always bright and entertaining.

—Senator Kenna, of West Virginia, who has been very ill, is better.

The republican National committee closed out $25,000 in debt and is making strenuous appeals for the faithful to come up and help them out of the hole. It will be in vain, however. Nobody wants to put money in a sunken ship.

—James Winn, of Madison, was fatally burned while firing anvils at Rice's Station.

—The quid nuncs are authority for the statement that Chairman Hawity is hooked for a cabinet place.

—The date for the next Grand Army encampment to be held in Indianapolis is the week beginning Sept. 3.

—Mrs. August Belmont, the widow of the late August Belmont, the well-known New York banker, is dead.

—It is still in doubt whether Harrison has carried Oregon or not. The populists claim one of her four electors.

—The House at Frankfort defeated Gardner's bill designating the penitentiary as the place for executing criminals.

—Telegraph wires in the North were frozen and St. Paul and Minneapolis had to be reached by telegraph via San Francisco.

—Hardin county is to vote on prohibition again Dec. 10. It has been in effect there with fair results for several years.

—The official count of the Ohio vote is still unannounced, but we are promised it to-day. Five counties are still unreported.

—At Anderson, Ind., Wm. Woods sent a bullet through James Costello's heart for insulting his sister, who was with him.

—It transpires that the recent Georgia Legislature was illegally called together and it is feared that grave complications may result.

—The first 50 cent piece coined for the World's Fair was bought by a type writer company seeking notoriety as an advertisement.

—Of the 1,500 papers started by the people's party advocates, 800 have gone up the spout since the election.

—The First National Bank, capital $50,000, at Glasgow, has been authorized by the comptroller of the currency to begin business.

—Mrs. Langtry will send to the Chicago Exposition a doll three feet high, specially modelled to resemble her in face and figure.

—The village of Harrison, Ark., was swept by a cyclone Friday night. Six persons were killed and many were seriously injured.

—Michael Moon, of Columbus, O., was granted a divorce because his wife had never given birth to any children, but is a crank on dolls.

—Ex-Congressman Louis E. McComas, of Maryland, has been appointed associate justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

—It is said that the L. & N. has let its express privileges to the United States Express Co., to take effect Jan. 1. The Adams has held it all along.

—The Tennessee democrats did some tall work when they elected "Old Pete" Turney to the governorship. He stands 6 feet 4 inches in his stockings.

—Hazelrigg's majority over Chief Justice Holt is 917. At the expiration of the latter's term the court will be without a republican representative.

—The admission of Utah, Arizona and New Mexico to the Union is now but a question of a very short time. This will mean six more democratic Senators.

—The telegraph operators of the Q. & C. did not get the increase of wages they asked, but succeeded in making the company recognize the order of O. R. T.

—Lieut. Gov. Sheehan, of New York, denies that Mr. Cleveland ever used the language at the Victoria Hotel dinner attributed to him by Mr. Shearman.

—Vice President-elect Stevenson has accepted an invitation to attend the opening of the new commercial club house at Atlanta on or about Dec. 20.

—William Bowling, the man who killed Harvey Dent in Carrie Martin's house of ill fame in Louisville, for her suitor, was acquitted in Louisville Saturday.

—At Dallas, Texas, John Shea was shot to death by Walter Billups because the latter had been a damaging witness against him in an assault and battery case.

—A heavy snowstorm Thursday throughout Missouri and portions of Kansas, Southeastern Nebraska and Southwestern Iowa will greatly benefit the winter wheat.

—During the trial of Miss Maude, the London belle charged with stealing silverware, an announcement that her mother had committed suicide put a stop to the proceedings.

—Benjamin J. Shields, who was in Congress in the days of Clay and Calhoun, and was minister to Venezuela under President James K. Polk, died at his home near Chilton, Texas.

—During the democratic ratification at Decatur, Ala., Miss Jones was struck by the premature explosion of a sky rocket. It pierced the eye ball and penetrated the brain, causing instant death.

—George Jenkins, of Huntsville, this State, has been proven guilty of the seduction of his own daughter, now 21 years of age. The fearful state of affairs has been going on since she was 12.

PERSONAL POINTS.

J. E. NEVIER has a position in the New Roller Mills now.
Miss MATTIE WHITE is back from a lengthy visit to Middlesboro.
Mr. S. P. SALTER, of Lexington, spent Sunday with Mrs. M. F. Elkin.
Miss NELLIE DILLON, of Lancaster, is the guest of Miss Annie Strath.
Mr. HARRY "Ben" HOCKER, of this place, is very sick.—Danville Advocate.
Rev. W. E. ELIAS has rented one of Mr. Harvey Helm's pretty cottages, just completed.
Capt. T. A. ELKIN will leave in a few days with some fine horse stock to his post in Texas.
Mrs. M. H. DICKINSON, of Glasgow, is with her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Ellis, at the Coffey House.
Mr. J. L. ELKIN has moved his family to Lancaster, where he will go into the grocery business.
Mr. P. W. CARTER went to see Mr. Lewis Dindler yesterday and reports him gradually sinking.
Mr. J. T. PALMER, representing the Kentucky Seed Warehouse Co., of Louisville, was here several days.
Mrs. W. M. BRIGHT and young Tom Phelps went up to Richmond Saturday to visit the family of old Tom Phelps.
Miss GEORGE LEWIS, of Boyle, and Mattie Hosley, of this county, spent a few days with Miss Annie McKinney.
Mrs. A. V. SIZEMORE went to Louisville yesterday to take the four children of the late Mr. McMahon, of Rowland, to the Baptist Orphan's Home.
Mr. and Mrs. SAM M. OWENS celebrated the ninth anniversary of their marriage by setting a splendid dinner which a number of friends enjoyed with them Sunday.
Messrs. P. W. GREEN, William Moreland, S. P. Stagg, Dr. Cox and others will leave tomorrow for a big hunt in Adair and adjoining counties.
Mrs. LAURA MONTGOMERY is the guest of her brother, Mr. Sam M. Owens. She is an applicant for the McKinney post office and large numbers of the patrons have endorsed her for it.
Miss MARY BELLE ENGLEMAN, daughter of Cashier J. H. Engleman, of the Farmers Bank, Danville, was one of the maids of honor at the Saterlites' Ball and one of the very prettiest of the number.
Mrs. J. P. SASSER, of Williamsburg, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Bell Gibson. In this connection we are glad to note that Mr. Gibson will still remain in Stanford, having declined the Owensboro call.
Mr. J. P. SASSER, who came down to see his father-in-law, Mr. W. H. Smith, tells us that his death is a question of a very short time. His cancer-torn eye was taken out and now the disease has attacked the other and is fast nearing the brain.
After moving several loads of his furniture to the Baughman house, on the Somerset pike, Sheriff J. N. Menefee decided that it was best, as his children are going to school, to remain in town, so he moved into one of Mrs. N. A. Tyree's houses on Lower Main.
The Courier-Journal says that Capt J. C. Bryant, of Lexington, formerly of Lincoln, is one of the most formidable applicants for the United States marshals'hip that his opponents will have to go against. He is a "rustling" politician besides being a popular man of commanding presence.
The kindly pulling at Misses Nannie and Kittie Baughman's was exaggerated. The two or three young ladies who spent the night with them amused themselves a part of the time in that way, only that and nothing more. Miss Nannie desires this correction as she doesn't want her best friends to feel slighted.
The Corbin Enterprise speaks thus of one of Stanford's worthy citizens: "Conductor J. B. Douglas has charge of both passenger and accommodation trains between this point and Jellico and the traveling public and business men along the line are very lucky in having him in charge. Mr. Douglas is a genial, clever fellow and attends strictly to business."

CITY AND VICINITY.

PRESENTS for all at Danks, the Jeweler's.
Our cloak stock, by recent purchases, is still complete. Severance & Son.
FOR RENT.—A cottage on Mill street. Apply to Will Matheny, or at this office.
WANTED.—200 pounds of butter at once. Will pay 20 cents per pound. McKinney Bros.

SHOCK FOUNDER twice. McKinney Bros.

If you got your watch wet in the recent fire, take it to Danks for repairs.

Just opened an elegant line of ladies fur muffs and bows. Severance & Son.

Born, to the wife of Mr. Zan Dindler, at Rowland, yesterday, a seven-pound girl, their second child.

New Raisins, Citrons, Currants, Cheese, Crackers, Pickles, dried and Canned Fruits and Meats of all kinds for Thanksgiving trade, at A. A. Warren's.

Our friends we don't want to make one cent on a bushel of coal and not "one cent on a pound," as the types made us say in the last issue. Higgins & Watts.

The engineers tell us that perfect order will be maintained at their hop at Walton's Opera House to-morrow night. No one not of known respectability and good standing will be admitted.

I need every cent due me now to buy my stock of goods, which I shall shortly open in the new store. This is intended for every one indebted to me. So please call and settle. W. B. McRoberts.

A BARREL of salt was stolen from the pavement on Somerset street, the property of Farris & Hardin. This might not be as a pointer for our merchants to stop monopolizing the pavements with their wares.

"BROTHER GREEN," pastor of the colored Methodist church here, baptized 13 young people in Logan's Creek, at Rowland, Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large crowd composed of both white and black.

SEVERAL annoying mistakes in the make up of our last paper caused us to shoot and kill the forerunner. We dislike to have to do such things, but we do not hesitate to resort to better remedies when the case demands it.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a supper on the night of the Engineers' Ball, to-morrow, in one of Dr. Owsley's new store rooms, which will be in shape by that time. The ball folks will patronize them and everybody else ought to help a good cause.

Mrs. SALLIE C. CHART is one of the applicants for the London post office and we trust that she will get it. The widow of one of the truest men and best of democrats, and being fully competent to fill the office, which she needs to support her children, she ought to be accorded a walk-over.

Another change in the schedule on this division of the L. & N. went into effect Sunday. No. 24 now passes north at 12:40 p. m. and No. 23, the southbound, at 1:22 p. m. The night train south, No. 25, passes at 11:55 p. m. and No. 26, north, at 3:10 a. m. The local freights pass at 7:55 a. m. and 4:45 p. m.

G. H. COOPER, county clerk, tells us that the ballot books for the 12 precincts in Lincoln cost $144. They were furnished by Bradley & Gilbert when this office would have been glad to have done the work for $50. Our people seem to be slow to learn that the INTERIOR JOURNAL does good printing at any office and at lower prices than any of them.

For 17 consecutive Thanksgiving days we have had to work harder than on any day of the week they came in, because they are always fixed for Thursday, one of our busiest days. But this time, in view of the recent democratic cyclone, we have decided to take one day off and celebrate the victory in thanksgiving and prayer. In view of this we ask our correspondents to send in their favors not later than Wednesday, as we shall issue the paper for Friday on that evening.

The fire ladders had another opportunity to show their alacrity Saturday morning. While changing the alarm bell at the water works the wires got crossed and a terrific alarm was sounded in Secretary A. R. Penny's office. He in turn gave the alarm and in double-quick time the hooks and ladders, hose, etc., were being taken thither by willing hands. They got nearly there before the mistake was discovered and the boys returned crest fallen and broken-winded. On Friday afternoon Mr. Roy Howe gave them a lesson in handling the hooks and ladders and they showed much agility in getting to the top of the Coffey House and opposite buildings.

In this section the terms of postmasters appointed by the president and as follows, unless they are ordered down and out sooner: Stanford, pay $1,300, Jan. 20, '94; Williamsburg, $1,000, Mar. 14, '94; Somerset, $1,500, Jan. 24, '94; Richmond, $1,300, Jan. 25, '94; Pineville, $1,300, Oct. 1, '94; Nicholasville, $1,400, Feb. 23, '94; Middlesboro, $1,900, Feb. 4, '94; Lebanon, $1,700, Mar. 24, '94; Lawrenceburg, $1,100, April 23, '94; Lancaster, $1,200, Feb. 24, '94; Harrodsburg, $1,700, Mar. 20, '94; and Danville, $1,900, Feb. 9, '94. It will therefore be seen that the boys and girls will have to wait their lips for pie a long time before they get it, should the republican incumbents of these offices be allowed to fill out their terms.

FOR RENT.—Two rooms over Severance & Son's store. Apply to Will N. Craig or Dr. Steele Bailey.

Mr. W. F. RAMSEY is preparing to build two nice cottages on his brick kiln lot on Logan Avenue.

The Court of Appeals has reversed the case of Watts vs. Wilson, appealed from the Lincoln circuit court.

We are in need of money and would appreciate the payment of accounts that are due and past due. Sine & Menefee.

Mr. FRANK CORDIER is building a nice residence and photograph gallery combined at Rowland. He is not building a room to keep post-office.

STANFORD has had another barber-shop added to the list. John Cook, formerly of this place, late of Winchester, is proprietor of the new shop.

MARSHAL JOHN NEWLAND arrested Bill Baughman, colored, on a writ from Lancaster, charging him with wife-beating and shipped him over by stage.

JUDGE SAUFLEY, who has just returned from the Wayne circuit court, tells us that three men were sent to the penitentiary for short terms for burglary.

New stock of raisins, currants, citron, figs, preserves, jellies, apple butter, mince meat, mixed and cucumber pickle, copanute, nuts, cakes and fruits. McKinney Bros.

Let's everybody give thanks this time, while Bro. Sam Shanks leads in prayer and Bro. Jim Bailey lines off that good old hymn, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

The firemen are so proud of their achievement at the Menefee fire that they are going to get positions on the walls to-day as they had them last Thursday, and have their "picture" took.

CARD OF THANKS.—The heartfelt thanks of myself and family are due and are hereby tendered to the fire company and others who did so much to save our property. May the Lord reward them. J. N. Menefee.

The members of P. Leed's division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers are making big preparations for the ball at Walton's Opera House to-morrow night. The floral decorations were purchased in Louisville and the house will be a thing of beauty and happiness.

The post-office at Crab Orchard was entered by knocking out a large window pane, Saturday night, but Postmaster John Edmiston is unable to find anything missing. The scamps, perhaps, thought that they were discovered and left in double-quick time.

Sunday night, just after supper, the smell of burning cloth filled the Coffey House. Investigation was at once made when it was found that a spark had set fire to Mrs. Emily Jones' bed and burned through the covering into the feather tick. A bucket of water dexterously handled by Mr. B. H. Danks put it out before the fire alarm could be sounded.

Shot.—Saturday, while Claudius Montgomery, son of the preacher, and three of Capt. B. F. Powell's boys were out hunting, a rabbit jumped up and James Powell fired an old horse pistol at it as it ran off. Just then the Montgomery boy got in range and caught the shot in his left shoulder; and they passed into his lung, producing a wound that, it is feared, will prove fatal. Young Powell is greatly distressed over the accident, but no one blames him for it.

A HEAVY snow storm, which lasted about an hour, covered the face of creation hereabouts Saturday, but its stay was of short duration. The sun came out soon and "like the snowflakes on the river, a moment seen then gone forever," were those of that day. Sunday was as lovely a day as ever came in November. It was raining yesterday morning, but the clouds were soon dispelled and about that time this dispatch came: "Cold wave due Tuesday morning."

Hoist the signal. If it come nunny a porker will equal its farewell note on earth.

A white girl, who refused to give her name, eloped from Rising Sun, Ind., with J. T. Asherton, a colored man, and was made his wife.

William Maier was hung for wife murder at Wheeling. The rope slipped and his toes touching the ground, the sheriff and others had to hold it up till life was extinct.

One of the happiest men in the country is Redfield Proctor, of Vermont. He has been elected to sit in the United States Senate until 1899. Vermont, you know, is likely to go democratic next year.

The birth of an infant to Mattie Johnson in a Cincinnati hospital developed the fact that she has three perfectly formed breasts, from each of which milk flows with equal freeness. It is one of the rarest cases in medical science.

At Chicago Herman Siegler, a German, shot and killed his wife's parents, wounded his wife and a policeman and was in turn shot by an officer before he was arrested. He was only saved from being lynched by officers hurrying him away.

A Good Suggestion.

(To the Editor Interior Journal).
LANCASTER, Nov. 18.—I notice in the INTERIOR of to-day that at a meeting of the Mexican Veterans of Kentucky held at Frankfort a few days since, they decided to hold their next reunion at Stanford, and designated J. S. Bosley and Reuben Williams a committee to fix the time and make suitable arrangements for the meeting. I beg to suggest to the committee the 23d of February next, the birthday of the Father of his Country, and the anniversary of the battle of Buena Vista as a suitable time to hold the reunion and I know that the good citizens of Stanford will give a royal welcome to the men who fought side by side with Capt. Daugherty and his gallant company on the sanguinary field of Angostura.
Yours truly, W. J. LANDMAN.
